„Building AIESEC in Afghanistan“

New Ideas for Afghanistan

„Building AIESEC in Afghanistan“

Office in Kabul opened

Another step in direction to set up AIESEC in Kabul was done one week ago. An office at the ministry of higher education was handed over to AIESEC in Afghanistan.

With kindly support of Khalid Dayani, the Afghan Minister of Higher Education Dr. Fayez offered to support AIESEC in Afghanistan with providing an office. We are looking forward to build up a long term cooperation with the Ministry of Higher Education.

A special thanks to Dr. Fayez personally. We highly appreciate your initiative and support. Together we will enable Afghan students to get connected all over the world.

Cooperation with Paiwastoon

We are proud to announce a partnership with the Afghan-German company Paiwastoon (<http://www.paiwastoon.com>).

We are looking forward to a symbiotic partnership.

Selection Process started

After the successful end of the presidential elections, we finally started the selection process. So far eleven students applied for an internship with AIESEC – the application is still open.

Thomas Lehmann will coordinate and execute the final selection of the Afghan students. If you are interested in taking an Afghan student as a trainee, please contact him directly (T.Lehmann@NifaOnline.com).

The next trainees are scheduled to arrive in Germany in January 2005.

The whole exchange program will be integrated in a one week seminar program and a cultural sensitivity workshop in the first week of January. This will go hand in hand with a reception weekend for the incoming trainees.

Again, if you want to participate in the preparation or the event itself, feel free to contact us directly:
